

Dr NG, Bacon Fung Leung

Occupational Therapist and Coach of Health Qigong

External representative of Hong Kong Occupational Therapy Association

Hong Kong

Dr Bacon NG is a registered Occupational Therapist in United Kingdom, United State and Hong Kong. He obtained his professional qualification in Hong Kong and his Doctorate of Occupational Therapy in USA. He is currently a senior executive officer of the Chinese Medicine Department of Hospital Authority and responsible for the Chinese medicine education and research. Prior to this, Dr Ng had been responsible for the clinical education of occupational therapy in mental health and served as convener of the Research Sub-committee of the Institute of Mental Health of Castle Peak Hospital for over 10 years. He has joined the International Society for Complementary Medicine Research as approved teacher in delivering basic study design and basic statistics module. He acquired the Certificate in Chinese Medicine in HKU, and certified as Coach of Health Qigong Liuzijue and Baduanjin issued by the China Health Qigong Association of General Administration of Sport of China. He serves as one of the external representative of Hong Kong Occupational Therapy Association and actively involves in promoting health qigong in the local community. Dr Ng has published 24 articles and over 40 conference proceedings. His recent research interest includes complementary medicine, mental wellness, health qigong, human circadian theory, recovery and remotivation.